Neil M Calvert FCA MAE

Managing Director

EXPERTISE

Neil first undertook forensic accountancy work in around 1984. He takes instructions from firms of solicitors and insurers, and on both claimant and defence work.

Neil is a member of the Academy of Experts and has undertaken training and completed reports as a Single Joint Expert.

Neil have vast experience in preparing company and share valuation reports, usually as a Single Joint Expert. He has also prepared loss of earnings calculations for personal injury claims, usually as a result of road traffic accidents. He also has experience of partnership disputes, professional negligence claims and loss of profit calculations.

As a Partner in a general practice, the day to day experience in advising clients on various accounting and tax issues has stood him in good stead when examining some of the most diverse cases that he has been instructed on.

Rushtons Forensics is the Lancashire representative of NIFA (Network of Independent Forensic Accountants), whose membership consists of independent accountancy practices throughout the UK who specialise in forensic accountancy, and are able to provide a cost effective alternative to the national firms of accountants.

TRAINING

NIFA provides forensic accountancy training seminars on topics such as changes to legal reporting standards, valuation methods and the latest issues in the industry.

Neil also undertakes training to keep up to date of current developments in audit, accountancy and taxation work by means of Rushtons' membership of a North West Region training group.

Neil has also had Articles published by the UK 200 Group in his previous role as a Specialist Litigation Support panel member.
